

>

> -----Original Message-----

> From: Jim Nuttall <nuttalljimmy@hotmail.com>

> Sent: Wednesday, November 15, 2023 8:55 AM

> To: David Cutaia <dcutaia@cityofgoleta.org>

> Subject: Re: Very concerned about overgrowth

>

> Here is an idea, when new housing is built, we should consider workforce housing and maybe subsidize it with conditions that you must work with a 25 mile radius and priority goes to the people that work closer to the housing To minimize commute, and if there is any type of rent control, it should only be applied to people at a lower income level, we have people within the city, making huge amounts of money, enjoying a rent controlled building, with all of the ridiculous expenses put on housing providers It is making the rents unaffordable and making it very difficult for anyone without a stellar credit score and reference to find a place, you guys have done this! There are unintended consequences to your actions.

>